

MASS SHOOTINGS

CS-150: Course Project

L A U R E N L A N D A

Background

1

Why?

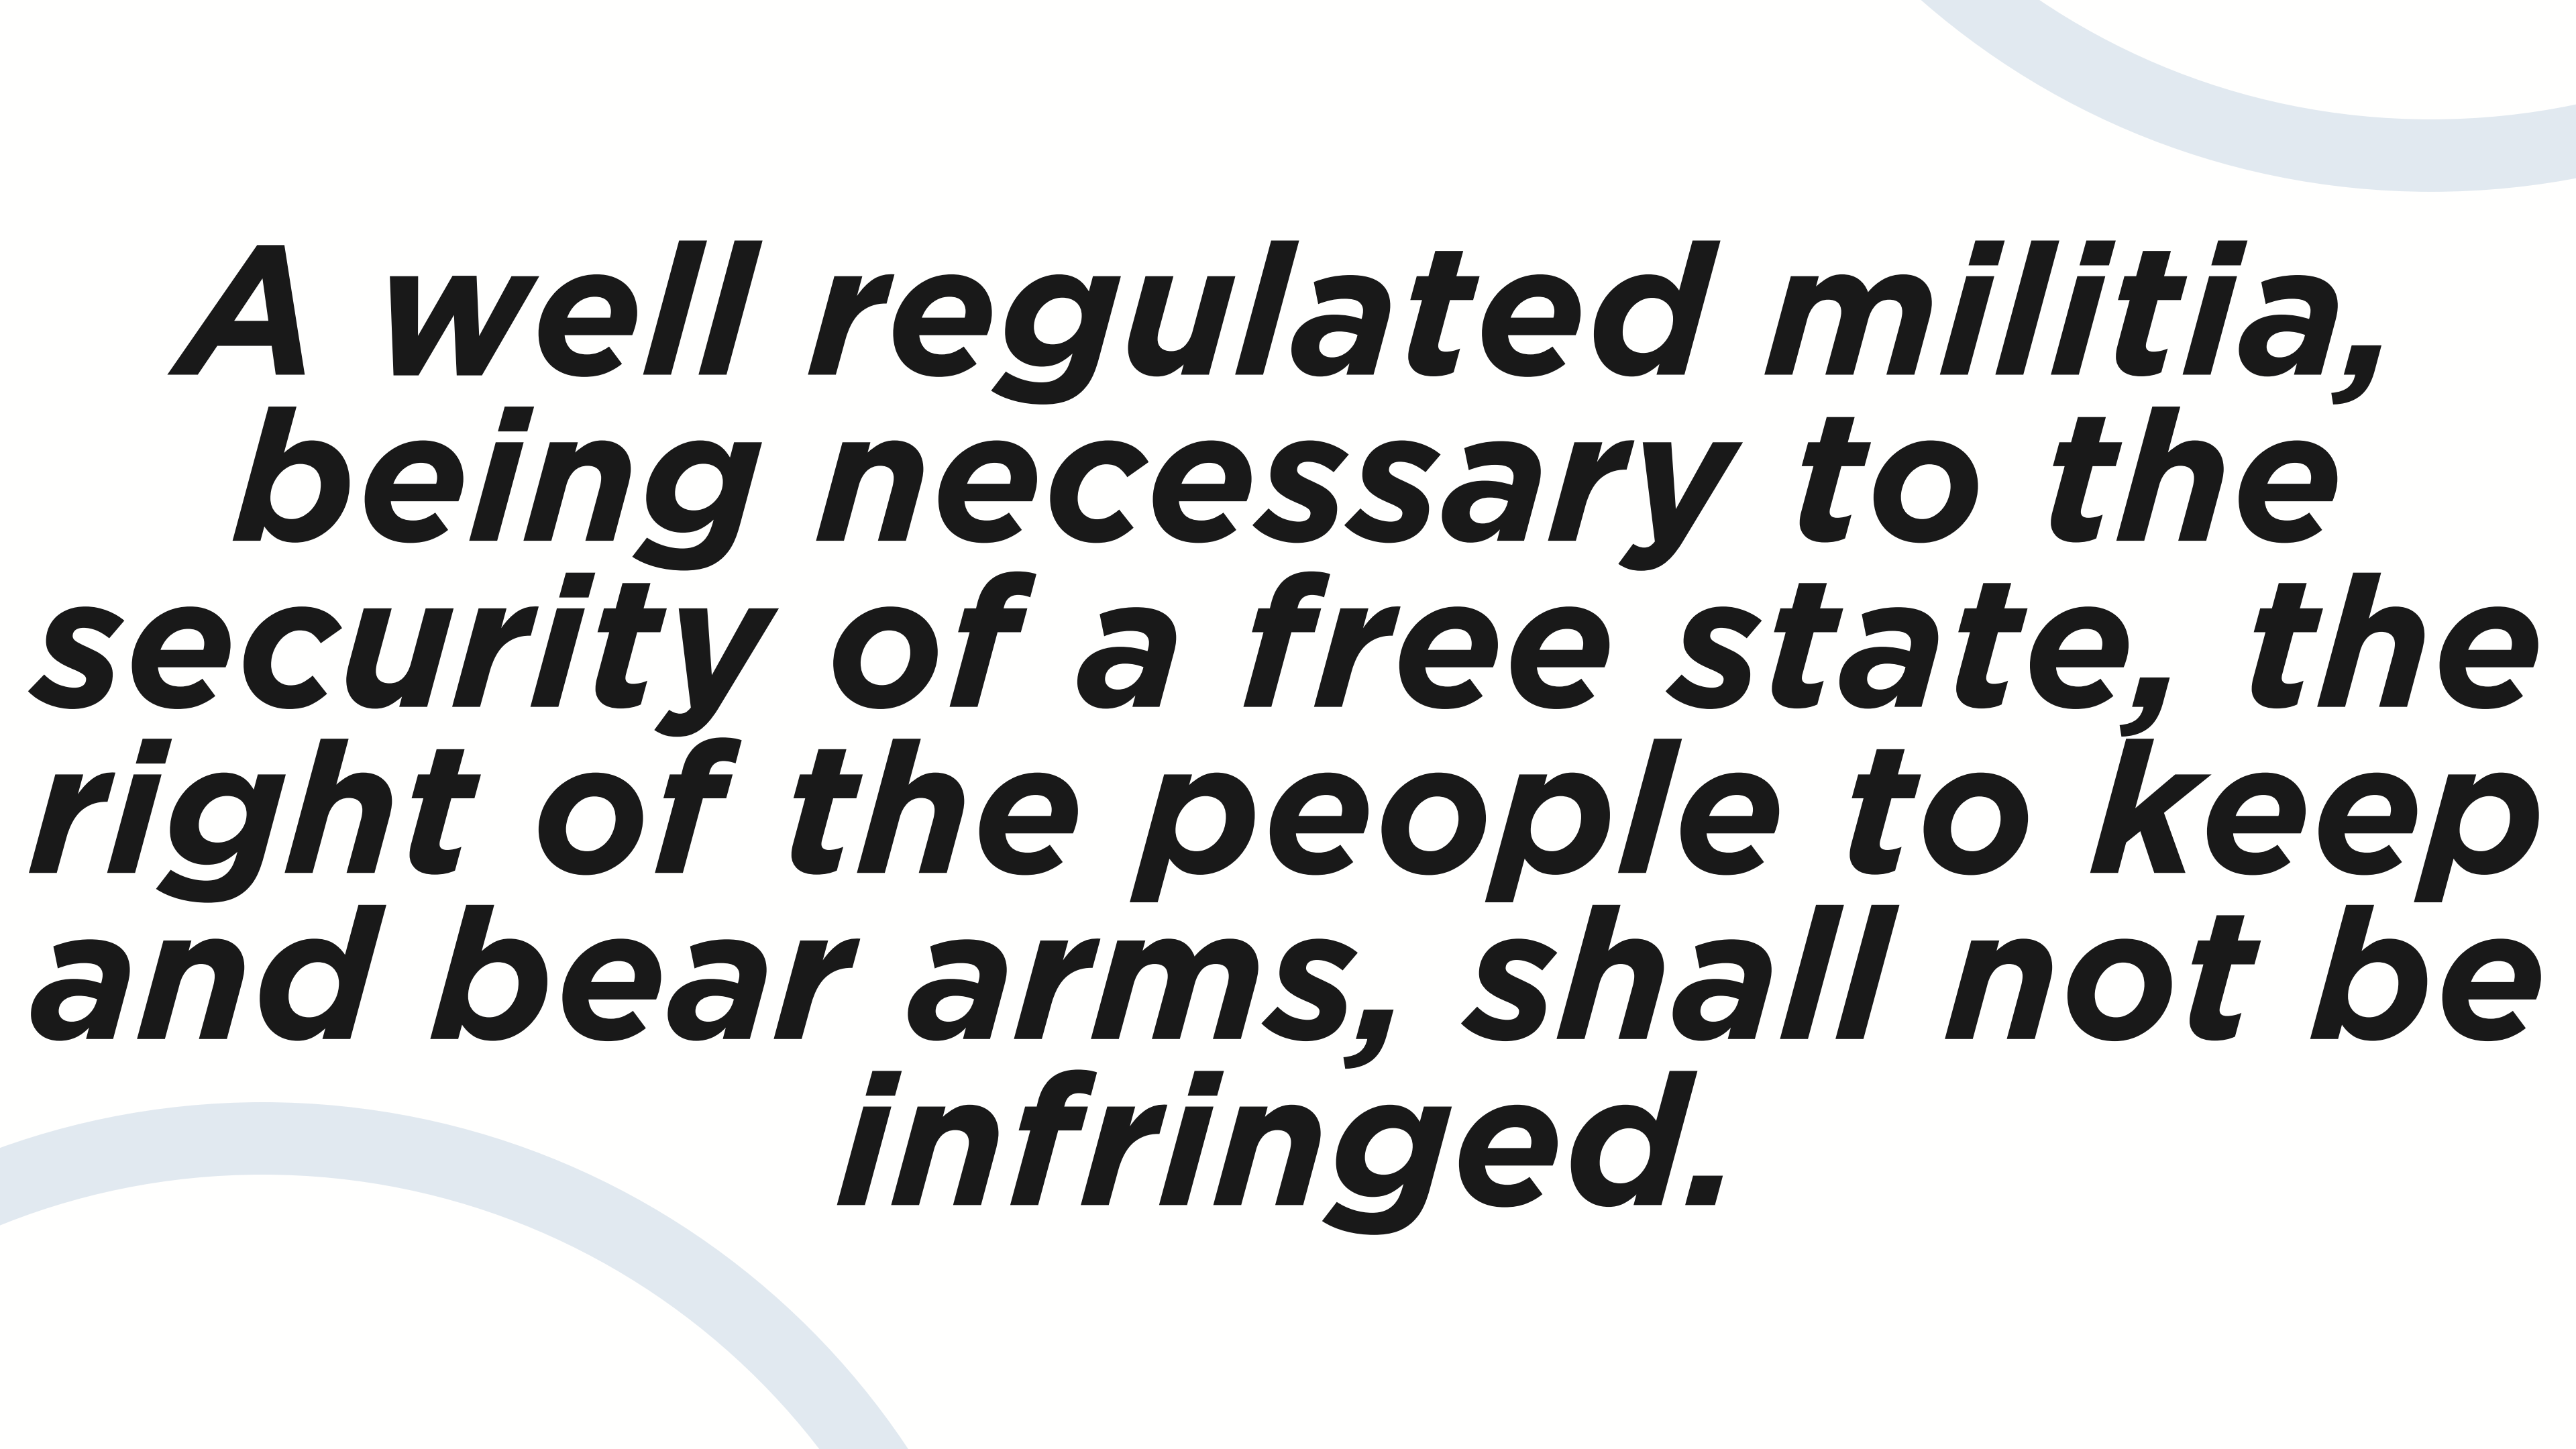

- Grew up in a world where we do school shooting training
- The Myth of the Second Amendment (Laura Muna-Landa)
- US seems to have an issue (not compared to other countries)

2

3

4

A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed.

Raw Data

Public Opinion: Gallup

- Changed with shootings?
- Ideologies shift?

Mass Shooting Index (2012-2025)

- Defined as 3 or more victims (killed or injured)
 - No specific definition throughout US

Everytown Gun Strictness

- Do stricter gun laws help?

Supreme Court 2nd Admendment Cases

- How have SC cases changed mass shootings?

1

2

3

4

1

2

3

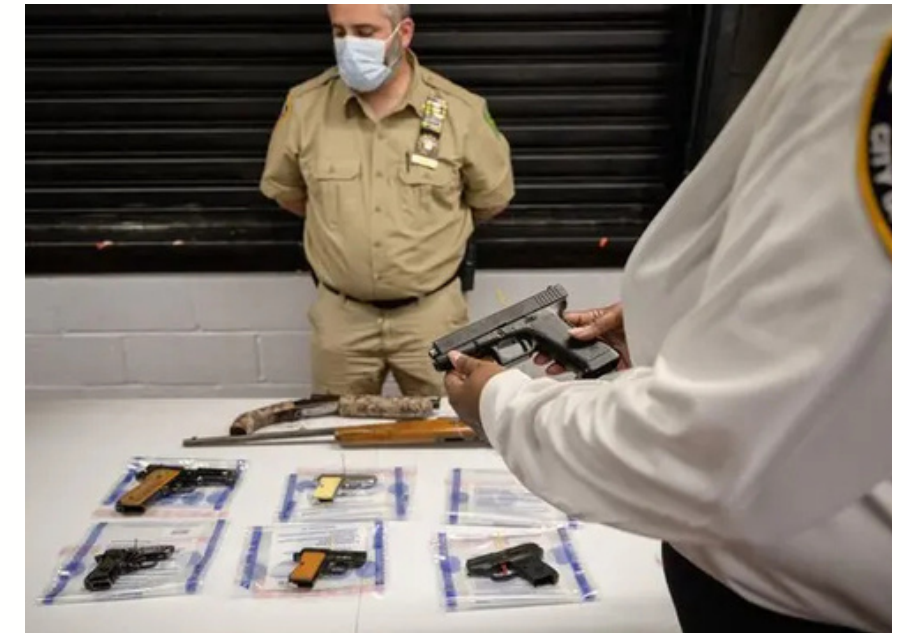

4

Dashboard

Reflections & Future Directions

Deeper Legal and Political Analysis

- Not prescribing solutions
- Look at patterns
- Bridge between legal history and present-day realities
- Challenge assumptions, inform legal arguments, and push for policies

1

2

3

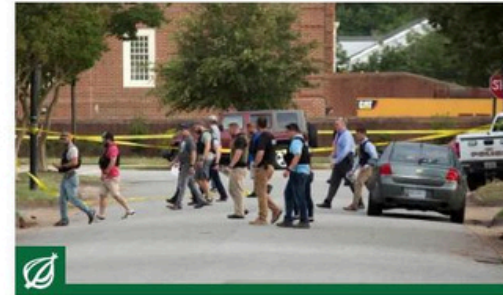

4

Thank you

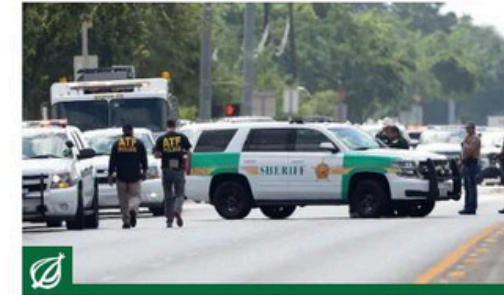

RECOMMENDED STORIES

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

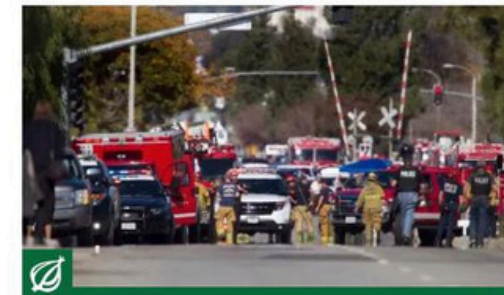

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

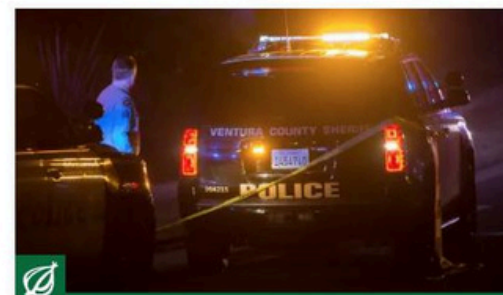

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

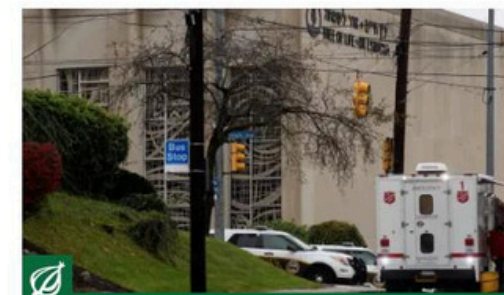

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

'No Way To Prevent This,' Says Only Nation Where This Regularly Happens

Index

- 2002-2022 Mass Shootings
 - USA: 109
 - Russia: 21
 - Yemen: 9
 - Phillipines: 8
 - Uganda: 8
- Finland, Switzerland, Canada, New Zealand all have guns
 - Stricter laws
- Not solely mental health

Myths

- Mental Health issue
- Gun Violence happens everywhere
- An armed school is a safer school.
- Mass shooters are likely to target gun-free zones

Facts

- United States is the only one where mass shootings occur on a daily basis.
- Although gun violence occurs occasionally in numerous nations, the epidemic of gun violence is a phenomenon that only Americans face.
- Efforts to put more guns in schools have caused harm
- Most mass shootings occur in areas where guns are permitted.